Monthly Newsletter from the leader in sandbox software for DevOps and Cloud Automation

This month, we participated in Cisco Live! the networking industry leader's marquee customer event. With over 26,000 attendees, it was a few days of non-stop customer engagements, demos and discussions. Quali is a technology partner to Cisco's DevNet initiative contributing sandbox software and it was great to see the DevNet initiative cross 500,000 subscribers, which is both reflective of the industry's transition to make infrastructure more accessible and developer friendly, but also indicative of the strategic thrust Cisco has put on making this transition successful.

Our customer Broadcom participated in a webinar with us showing how they use CloudShell to build custom and complex sales demos to accelerate their sales cycle. The recorded version is accessible below. Another highlight this month is the webinar on migrating and re-platforming on-premise to the public cloud (AWS) in this case leveraging CloudShell. A solution brief will also be available shortly. Next month we will focus on doing this with Microsoft Azure
